Die Welt im Sturm erobert Tania Aebi 2004 Tania Aebi, erste und jüngste amerikanische Weltumseglerin, erzählt erfrischend und geradezu hinreißend die Geschichte ihrer erstaunlichen und in jeder Hinsicht bewegenden 27 000-Meilen-Reise. Sie ist ein flip New Yorker Teenager, der mit seiner Clique die Nächte in den Discos herumhängt, als ihr Vater sie vor die Wahl stellt: ab aufs oder Weltumseglung ? allein. Die 18-Jährige nimmt die Herausforderung an. Aus purer Abenteuerlust, aber auch, um dem Vater beweisen, dass sie sehr wohl Stehvermögen hat. Ihre Slup VARUNA ist knapp acht Meter lang. Vom Segeln weiß sie nicht viel das, was sie sich an Bord der väterlichen Yacht auf einer Atlantik-Überquerung abgesehen hat. Doch was aus Abenteuerlust b wird zu einer Reise der Selbsterfahrung: Stürme, eine Kollision, eine Beinahe-Kenterung, Verletzungen ? sie will durchhalten, un jeden Preis, und sie schafft es. Obwohl sie mehrfach in Versuchung gerät, endgültig aufzugeben. Und sie verliebt sich zweimal ein junger Schweizer, ebenfalls einhand unterwegs, ist es schließlich, der Tania, als sie nach New York zurückkehrt, dort bereit erwartet. Sie hat nicht nur ihn, sondern im doppelten Sinne ?die Welt im Sturm erobert?.

Boat-Building and Boating Dan C. Beard 2013-01 "This is not a book for yacht-builders, but it is intended for beginners in the a boat-building, who wish to make something with which they may navigate the waters of ponds, lakes, or streams. It begins primitive crafts composed of slabs or logs and works up to scows, house-boats, skiffs, canoes and simple forms of sailing cr boat, and there it stops. In writing and collecting this material for boat-builders from his other works and placing them in or the author feels that he is offering a useful book to a large audience of new recruits to the army of those who believe in th American doctrine of: If you want a thing done, do it yourself." (Dan Beard) Reprint of the original edition from 1931.

Nelson's Arctic Voyage Peter Goodwin 2019-05-16 In the summer of 1773 the 14-year old Horatio Nelson took part in an exper

the Arctic, which came close to ending his naval career before it had begun. The expedition was to find a navigable northern route between the Atlantic and Pacific, and was supported by the Royal Society and King George III. Two bomb vessels HMS Racehorse and Carcass were fitted out and strengthened under the command of Captain Hon. Constantine Phipps. It was an extremely cold summer and the ships became locked in ice far from Spitzbergen and were unable to cut their way out until days later when the weather changed and the ice broke up. The ships were extricated and returned home. On the trip, the young Nelson had command of smaller boats of the ships, a four-oared cutter manned by twelve seamen. In this he helped to save the crew of a boat below Racehorse from an attack by a herd of enraged walruses. He also had a more famous encounter with a polar bear, while attempting to obtain a bearskin as a present for his father, an exploit that later became part of the Nelson legend. Drawing on the ship's journal, expedition commander Phipps' journal from the National Archives, the book creates a picture of the expedition and life on board. From the ships' muster books it also details the ship's crews giving the different roles and ranks in the ships. The book is illustrated with some of the ship's drawings and charts and pictures of many objects used on the ship, while a navigational chart of the route has been created from the logbooks. The book also looks at the overall concept of naval exploration as set in train by Joseph Banks and the Royal Society. The fact that the expedition failed as a result of poor planning with potentially tragic results demonstrates the dangers and uncertainties of such an expedition. It also looks at a great naval commander at the earliest stage of his career and considers the experience might have shaped his later career and attitudes. Other great captains and voyages are discussed alongside Nelson, including Captain Cook and his exploration of the south seas and the later ill-fated northern journeys of Franklin and Shackleton.

Die sonderbare letzte Reise des Donald Crowhurst
Reinhold 2016-08-01 Ein Klassiker über ein zeitlos spannendes Abenteurerschicksal
Im Juli 1969 wird mitten im Atlantik eine Jacht entdeckt – die Segel sind gesetzt, aber der Trimaran ist leer. Nur die Log- und Tagebücher befinden sich noch an Bord und offenbaren ein dunkles Geheimnis. Ihr Verfasser Donald Crowhurst war acht Monate zuvor aufgebrochen, um im Wettstreit mit namhaften Seglern wie Robin Knox-Johnston und Bernard Moitessier als schnellster Solosegler nonstop die Welt zu umrunden. Was damals kaum jemand wusste: Crowhurst verfügte weder über Hochseerfahrung noch über ein seetaugliches Boot. Doch warum war der Unternehmer und Familienvater dennoch bei dem Rennen, das die Sunday Times mit einem Preisgeld von 5000 Pfund ausgelost hatte, angetreten? Und was ist an Bord geschehen, dass er für immer verschwand? Die einfühlsam arbeitenden Autoren anhand der letzten Aufzeichnungen die Vorgeschichte und sonderbaren Abläufe auf See auf. Sie berichten von menschlichem Streben und Versagen. Erzählen eine Geschichte über Heldentum, in der kein Held vorkommt. Und zeichnen das Porträt eines bemerkenswerten Mannes, der am Ende keinen Ausweg mehr sah. "Crowhursts Geschichte ist dramatischer als alle anderen, geheimnisvoller und dunkler als ›All is lost.‹" Frankfurter Allgemeine Magazin "Eine der außergewöhnlichsten Seefahrtsgeschichten, die je veröffentlicht wurde." The Washington Post "Ein Meisterstück." The New Yorker "Eines der packendsten Lesestücke über das Segeln überhaupt." FAZ
